NETWORKING MIXER SPONSORED BY TITO'S VODKA

- In partnership with Yorgos and sponsored Tito's Handmade Vodka, this networking mixer created a space for professionals across various industries to connect, collaborate, and foster new relationships. The event combined business networking with community engagement, providing attendees with valuable opportunities for professional growth while supporting local initiatives through a food donation drive with Crispus Attucks Community Center.

YOUNG PROFESSIONALS OF COLOR LANCASTER

- YPOC Lancaster (Young Professionals of Color) is a community-based network created to support, connect, and uplift Black and Brown professionals across the Lancaster region. The group focuses on building real relationships, expanding access to opportunity, and creating spaces where professionals of color feel seen, supported, and able to grow both personally and professionally.

She Belongs Here

A sold -out experience created to celebrate visibility, expand access, and authentic connection among black and brown women in business and leadership. This experience is to remind women that they don't need permission to take up space- they already belong.

Focus

- Building confidence through connection
- Networking with purpose and direction
- Representation in leadership spaces
- Collaboration over competition

COMMUNITY SPOTLIGHT

- When we think about businesses, we often picture storefronts, but success doesn't always come with a brick-and-mortar location. Many Black and Brown entrepreneurs in Lancaster are thriving through home-based businesses, mobile services, online platforms, and community partnerships. Their impact and economic contributions are just as valuable, and they deserve the same support and recognition.
